ROMMEL FIGHTS DESPERATELY ON TUNISIAN BOTTLENECK

U. S. TROOPS BATTERING ESCAPE AREA

London Hears British First Army Has Opened Major Offensive Against Von Arnim

SEDJENANE RECAPTURED

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Allied headquarters announced today that British 8th Army troops were streaming deep into the Gabs bottleneck, in rapid pursuit of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's retreating columns, and U. S. troops were reported hammering Rommel's "escape corridor" in three sectors on a 100-mile front.

Simultaneously, London heard that the British 1st Army had opened a major offensive against Col. Gen. Jürgen von Arnim's Axis army in the Tunis-Bizerte zone.

A bulletin from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said the 8th Army had swept 12 miles beyond Gabs to capture Oudref, directly in the Gabs gap, while in the north the British 1st Army recaptured Sedjenane.

Sedjenane lies only 35 miles southwest of the big Axis-held naval base at Bizerte.

Capture of Sedjenane marked a 7-mile British advance from Djebel Abid.

Allied headquarters said Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's 8th Army veterans occupied Oudref early yesterday morning—an advance of 32 miles from the Mareth line since Sunday—and reported that British vanguards "made further progress during the day."

So far, there was no intimation of Rommel attempting a new stand, and apparently the outfoxed "desert fox" was retreating in all haste toward a junction with Col. Gen. Jürgen von Arnim's northern Tunisian army.

The Allied communiqué said British troops were encountering only "hastily prepared enemy defenses" in the Gabs bottleneck.

An Algiers broadcast said British warships were heavily bombarding Marshal Rommel's columns fleeing along the coastal road north of Gabs.

The radio also broadcast a re-

DEDICATIONS TO BE HELD IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, March 31.—(P)—Independence Hall and two adjoining buildings will be dedicated as a national shrine Saturday. Responsibility for preserving the structures thus will pass to the federal government after being borne by the city for more than a century.

Newton D. Drury, director of the National Park Service, will represent Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes at the dedication ceremonies.

The two adjoining buildings are Congress Hall, where Washington delivered his farewell address in 1796, and Old City Hall, which served as the home of the supreme court while Philadelphia was the seat of the federal government.

29TH RAID OF MONTH IS STAGED ON KISKA

Washington, March 31.—(P)—The navy announced today that United States army bombers have again blasted Japanese runways and installations at Kiska in the Aleutian Islands.

This was the 29th raid of the month on Kiska.

Flying Fortresses also attacked Japanese positions at Vila in the central Solomon Islands and Kahili in the Shortland Island area in the South Pacific, the navy communiqué said.

All United States planes returned safely from all the raids.

Venango County Boy Flying With Poles In French Raids

New York, March 31.—(P)—The Polish Telegraph Agency said today that Capt. Frank Gabreski, American-born Pole of Oil City, Pa., had flown with a Polish fighting squadron in a raid over Nazi-held French territory.

Reports from London, reaching here, the agency said, disclosed that Gabreski, Notre Dame University graduate and member of the U. S. Air Force since 1940, flew in combat formation with a trio of Polish pilots.

Quick Passage of Post-War Planning Bill Is Foreseen

Measure Scheduled For Consideration Has Little Opposition

OTHER LEGISLATION

Harrisburg, March 31.—(P)—A bill to accomplish a major administrative objective—set up a post-war planning commission—came up for a vote in the house today with the Republican majority predicting quick passage.

"I don't know of any opposition," Rep. Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, the Republican floor leader, said.

The senate also placed in position for a vote one of its most controversial bills—the message to rip out the nine-month-old parole board and restore parole power to county courts and the state pardon board.

Senator Weldon B. Heyburn, the Republican majority floor leader, said majority senators would caucus before the session to determine whether a vote should be taken today.

Senator B. B. McGinnis, Democratic floor leader, voiced the minority opposition to the bill, sponsored by one of that group, Senator H. Jerome Jassan (D-Phila.).

The Republican caucus has not committed its members.

Before the post-war planning measure was returned to the house, a $200,000 appropriation to finance the program was given committee approval.

Lone Yankee Flier Halts Jap Vessels

By the Associated Press

A lone American Flying Fortress, attacking in pitch-black night, was officially credited today with probably sinking a large Japanese destroyer and putting three others to flight in the waters off northern New Guinea.

Capt. Frederick Wesche, of Roselle, N. J., pilot of the Fortress in yesterday's attack, said the enemy warship suffered a hit on the stern, and later reports of lifeboats spotted in the vicinity indicated that the destroyer had been sunk.

Other Allied warplanes pounded the Japanese bases at Lae, Salamaua and Finschhafen in New Guinea, and dropped 1,000-pound bombs on the enemy base at Gasmata, New Britain.

A single Allied reconnaissance plane, flying over the Bismarck Sea between New Guinea and New Britain, was reported to have shot down four of nine Japanese planes in a running battle. The Allied plane returned safely to its base.

On the Burma-India front, RAF fighter planes were reported to have damaged 13 of 22 Japanese bombers and fighters attempting to attack an Allied air base in Bengal province, India.

The Polish pilots were attacked by five Nazi planes, one of which was downed, the agency said.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanislaw J. Gabreski, Oil City shopkeepers, Frank has been dubbed "Polyankee" by his Polish fighting comrades.

His battle baptism was received at Pearl Harbor. Shortly afterwards he was assigned to Great Britain, where he was made liaison officer between American and Polish units and was attached for a while to a Polish squadron, the agency said.

Beamish To Fight Ouster Proceedings

Utility Commissioner Says He Must Be "Physically Removed"

GOVERNOR HAS BILL

Harrisburg, March 31.—(P)—Utility Commissioner Richard J. Beamish refused today to give up his post at the expiration of his six-year term at midnight tonight as the legislature sent a bill to Governor Martin ousting the 73-year-old Democrat.

Declaring he intended to report for work "until I am physically removed," Beamish claimed he continues as a commissioner until his successor is appointed and qualified and announced plans to challenge the legislature's action in court.

Final action on the ouster came in the house which split along party lines 126 to 76 in approving a measure by Senator M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, limiting the term of a utility commissioner to the specific period for which he was appointed.

Former Democratic Governor George H. Earle gave Beamish a commission expiring tonight or when his successor is appointed and "duly qualified." Beamish said he is relying on court decisions that legislative bodies "have no power to make legislation which will impair the obligation of contracts."

Taylor started ouster proceedings after Democratic opposition brought withdrawal by Governor Martin of the nomination of Dr. Frank Parker, University of Pennsylvania professor, to succeed Beamish. Martin has not submitted a second name but said he expected to before the session ends.

Democratic legislators assailed the ouster on constitutional grounds. Rep. John R. Bentley (D-Allegheny) contending it was illegal to change terms of a utility.

Labor Peace Parley Starts

Washington, March 31.—(P)—Peace emissaries of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations met today for a renewed attempt at reconciliation.

The meeting was regarded as a resumption of conferences held last December 1 and 2 when the joint committee drew up an agreement providing arbitration procedure for settlement of jurisdictional disputes.

Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the United Steel Workers, and Julius Emspak, secretary of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine workers, represented the CIO at today's session. R. J. Thomas, of the United Auto Workers, the third peace committee member, was absent.

Harry Bates, president of the Bricklayers Union and chairman of the AFL committee, said William L. Hutchison, president of the Brotherhood of Carpenters, and possibly others, would sit with him.

ABATEMENT COMPROMISE ISSUE SOUGHT

House Republicans Determined to Secure as Much Of Year's Taxes Skipped as Possible

RUMML PLAN IS BEATEN

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, Mar. 31.—(P)—Their battle to by-pass an income tax year beaten by a close-ranked majority of Democrats who "threw the kitchen sink and ash can at us," house Republicans considered compromise today with an eye toward getting as much of one year's taxes abated as possible.

The Rumml skip-a-year plan was beaten down, 215 to 198, in yesterday's climax to one of the most hectic house battles in recent history.

In its stead, Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.), GOP strategy chief in the tax scrap, said Republicans might swing in behind a compromise, along one of two probable lines:

1. The proposal of Rep. Robertson (D-Va.) to abate the 6 per cent normal and 13 per cent first bracket surtax on 1942 income of all taxpayers.

2. A suggestion by ways and means Chairman Doughton (D-NC) that half the 1942 liability of each taxpayer be cancelled.

Yesterday's house action sent all pay-as-you-go legislation, including the 20 per cent withholding levy on wages and salaries, back to the ways and means committee, where it started 10 weeks ago.

However, a bi-partisan deal was struck for the house to take another try at legislation to put 44,000,000 income taxpayers on a current basis promptly developed.

Treasury officials have estimated that the Rumml plan would wipe out $10,000,000,000 of government "assets," the Robertson plan, $7,500,000,000, and the abatement under the Doughton suggestion would amount to $5,000,000,000.

Of the tax battle, Knutson, a veteran house member, said "there's been nothing like it since the war resolutions were up in 1917. They (the Democrats) threw the kitchen sink and ash can at us."

Ceilings On Used Trucks Are Decreed

By IRVING PERLMETER

Washington, March 31.—(P)—In an effort to chop down war-inflated prices, the Office of Price Administration today decreed maximum prices for used trucks, ambulances, buses and other used commercial motor vehicles. In some cases the ceiling prices were only a fraction of current market quotations.

The new regulations, effective April 26, set the top legal prices of any of these vehicles at a percentage of its original delivered price. Depending on age and partly on whether the vehicle has been reconditioned, the percentages range from 26 to 97 of "new cost."

These percentages, OPA said, are "expected to halt the activities of speculators which have resulted in some instances in prices which are 200 per cent or more over the normal value of the used truck."

Exempted from the order are ordinary passenger automobiles, taxicabs, station wagons and farm tractors. However, officials said they were studying the possibility of similar action on these vehicles.

Thousands Brought Closer To Draft Under New Seven-Point Semi-Compulsory Regulation

By CHARLES MOLONY

Washington, March 31.—(P)—Tens of thousands were brought closer to military service today under a seven-point, semi-compulsory manpower action designed primarily to relieve a shortage of 50,000 dairy workers, but capable of being extended to all agriculture and essential industry.

The program, announced by President Roosevelt late yesterday, hinted broadly at the possible drafting of farm-experienced men now deferred because of age or minor physical disabilities if they refuse dairymaking jobs.

It also changed the system of releasing soldiers 38 years or older so that in the future they can be channeled into and kept at jobs in essential industry and agriculture, subject to recall by the army upon request of the war manpower commission.

The program gave dairy workers a preferred claim on draft deferment exceeding even that recently established for essential farm workers generally, which resulted in such a strong back-to-the-farm movement that some war plants are complaining of losing workers.

But it also provides that experienced former dairy workers between 18 and 28 who have been rejected by the army for physical disability might, if they refuse to return to dairy work, be put up for reconsideration and acceptance for limited service.

County (farm) war boards in shortage areas have been directed by Food Administrator Chester C. Davis to obtain the names of these men from local draft boards, and:

1. If they are over 45, merely "urge" their return to dairy farms.

2. If they are between 38 and 45, in non-deferable jobs, and have experience either as general farm workers or dairy workers, join with the local draft boards in "urging" them to return to dairymaking.

Just what stimulus this would give the 38-45 group was obscure in view of the fact that drafting of men of that age was halted last Dec. 5 by request of the war department and with presidential approval.

Another provision authorizes dairy farmers to take conscientious objectors who have been relieved of draft liability. The memorandum said there are 500 experienced dairy workers in this class and an additional 1,800 qualified by general farm work, all "now available."

The army, under the program, is to stop granting outright discharges after today in releasing over-age men and to transfer them to inactive status in the enlisted reserves, where they will continue to be subject to army orders.

PLAN TO RECLASSIFY 30,000 AROUND PHILLY

Philadelphia, March 31.—(P)—About 30,000 residents of the Philadelphia metropolitan area will be classified 1-A after tomorrow in accordance with the government's "work or fight" order, the regional office of the War Manpower Commission estimated last night.

"The decision as to whether or not to enter war work rests entirely with the individual," Regional Director Louis B. F. Raycroft commented. "The army needs men just as badly as industry, and if a person in a non-deferable occupation chooses to let matters take their course, he will probably find himself in the army."

At the foot of the steep hill the 15-ton truck tipped over and slid along 180 feet on its side, ripping off its top. Bounding into the air from the embankment, the vehicle crushed two railroad tracks, and hurled to the ground a complete wreck, scattering its cargo as it went.

The body of Dantonio, who was nearly decapitated, was found on the railroad tracks shortly afterward. Sutter died later in Armstrong county hospital here.

It was the second unusual accident here in little more than 12 hours. In the first, one man was killed and two injured when a truck and train collided, damaging a machine shop building.

Good Progress Being Made On Oil Pipeline

Washington, March 31.—(P)—More than 200 miles of the 809-mile eastern leg of the 24-inch crude oil pipeline have been laid despite snow and mud that severely hampered construction crews, says Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes.

At the same time, Ickes declared that the total length of the pipeline, which has been completed from Long View, Tex., to Norris City, Ill., and is being extended to Philadelphia and New York, would be shortened from 1,385 to 1,340 miles by acquisition of "more favorable right-of-way."

CONFERENCE ON POST-WAR ISSUES HINTED

Conversations With Russia Believed Coming In Near Future

APATHY IS PUZZLING

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, March 31.—(P)—Following closely President Roosevelt's prediction of an early Russian-American conference, Secretary of State Hull and Soviet Ambassador Maxim Litvinov met today to discuss their separate conversations with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

State Department sources said the object of the meeting was a general exchange of information, with particular reference to subjects both Hull and Litvinov already had taken up with Eden.

Mr. Roosevelt did not say where or when the Russian-American conversations would take place, nor who the principals would be.

Withholding all specific information at a press conference yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt turned aside with noncommittal answers questions designed to bring out whether he expected Premier Stalin or Foreign Commissar Molotov to come to this country.

But he made it clear that he and Anthony Eden, in consultations which ended yesterday, had cut the pattern for additional talks among various members of the United Nations.

Puzzlement at what they called comparative public apathy toward post war problems was expressed by some members of a senate for-

Youth Admits Killing Five In His Family

Los Angeles, March 31.—(P)—For nearly a month, 19-year-old Amos Raymond Latshaw worked as a theater doorman at one of the city's busiest downtown corners, where news vendors hawked papers carrying his description as the youth sought for questioning in the slaying of five members of his family.

A traffic policeman at the same intersection, C. E. Clark, recognized him yesterday, and last night Det. Capt. Vernon Rasmussen declared the slender, blue-eyed Latshaw confessed the shooting of his parents, grandparents and young brother last Feb. 11 on their ranch near Loomis, Placer county, California.

The Latshaws lived near the little rural community of Cochran, Crayford county, Pa., for many years before moving to California seven or eight years ago.

Sheriff Charles Silva, his deputy, Jack Shannon, and District Attorney Lowell Sparks left Placer county last night for Los Angeles. Silva said he carried a complaint charging Latshaw with murder. He is booked here on suspicion of murder.

Latshaw, Capt. Rasmussen said, admitted he shot his father, Amos Latshaw, 28, because "he beat me often and without cause," and because his father and stepmother, Ollie, 39, quarreled. He shot the grandfather, Charles Latshaw, 57; the latter's wife, Bertha, 55, and the brother, Charles, 6, "to cover up" the slaying of his father, Capt. Rasmussen quoted the youth as confessing.

Bodies of the five were found on the ranch Feb. 28, and a statewide search for Latshaw was instituted.

Latshaw wrapped the bodies of his father and stepmother in canvas, threw them into a well and drove to San Francisco after taking $114 of his father's money, Capt. Rasmussen said he related. He came here March 3.

CHANGES PROPOSED IN TEACHER SALARY BILL

Harrisburg, March 31.—(P)—A bill proposing $13,000,000 a year cost-of-living salary increases for Pennsylvania's 63,000 school teachers today was in position for amendment from the floor of the house.

Expected amendments would direct school boards to give pay boosts as soon as the bill becomes law, require withholding of state subsidies from districts failing to pass on increases, permit discretion in deducting past merit increases from proposed pay hikes and step up increases from $300 to $400 in first and second class school districts.

"Work, Pray and Sweat" Plea Of Gov. Martin In Address

Pittsburgh, March 31.—(P)—Governor Martin urged Pennsylvanians last night to "work, pray and sweat" so that men in the armed forces will lack no weapons or food in their fight "for the privileges of liberty and freedom."

"Even if we have meat but once a week and coffee once a month and have to walk to work, our sacrifice is very small compared to those of the men in the foxholes and on the tankers," he added.

The governor, a former commander of the state's national guard, predicted that as many as 900,000 Pennsylvanians will wear the uniforms of the armed forces before the war ends.

"The ending of this struggle is not in sight," he told the Pittsburgh chapter of the National Council of Jewish Women. "We feel," he said, "that while we have done much, we must do more if we are not to go down smashed and ruined by our enemies. If Pennsylvania lags in its efforts, the war will be lengthened."

The new Republican governor was introduced by Pittsburgh's Democratic Mayor, Cornelius D. Scully, who several times referred to Martin as "my very good friend."

Mayor Scully bluntly compared the governor's "keen understanding of what this struggle means to you and me" with the governor's predecessor, Governor Arthur H. James. The mayor said James "didn't seem to realize there was a war on."

NO ESSENTIAL CHANGES ON SOVIET FRONT

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, March 31.—(P)—The spreading spring thaw has brought still worse weather conditions to the long Russian front and the Soviet midday communiqué today again opened with its monotonous keynote: "No essential changes occurred on the fronts."

(The German high command communiqué stated today that Russian thrusts on the Kuban bridgehead, and southwest of Vyazma were repulsed. South of Lake Ladoga successful defensive fighting continued, the communiqué said. It reported that two Soviet battalions were annihilated and a number of tanks destroyed in this action.)

It said that "south of Lake Ilmen a German offensive operation made in order to shorten the front reached prearranged objectives in spite of difficult terrain conditions."

(The communiqué said that quiet prevailed yesterday on the southern and central sectors of the front.)

Soviet fighters on the western front, pushing slowly into the German positions on the distant approaches about Smolensk, were able to carry out only scouting operations yesterday, it was said, but the Soviet noon communiqué announced that south of Bely an attack with cold steel and hand grenades won the Russians a series of German trenches, with about a company of the German defenders wiped out.

In the continuing battle for the Donets river valley positions east of Kharkov, Russian scouts killed 150 Germans attempting to find a new crossing over the river and captured five loaded supply trucks, the war bulletin declared.

It was in this sector, the Russians said, that the Nazis yesterday renewed furious assaults after a comparative lull, and the renewal cost them 500 officers and men killed in land battles, and 15 planes shot down.

The skies had cleared in southern Russia, and Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, reported that air clashes were mounting daily. With better flying conditions the Germans were raiding the Soviets' already burdened supply lines deep in the rear, sending 10 to 20 plane missions on the task.

Warm winds were beginning to blow over the Don valley and the (Turn to Page Seven)

Trains Move On Schedule After Wreck

Wrecking crews of the Pennsylvania railroad summoned to the scene of the wreck one mile east of Clarendon gave an excellent display of speed in the clearing away of the debris and in repairing the tracks. With a matter of hours wrecked cars were hauled from the scene and work of making repairs to the tracks was started. Old ties and rails were removed and replaced and today traffic over the stretch of track which was replaced was resumed.

Trains all day yesterday were routed via Olean and 580 east-bound last evening made the trip over the round about route.

Announcement that the Flyer is officially known on the railroad guides as "The Northern Express" came as a great surprise to the public and to many of the railroad employees. However a check-up showed that this is the official name of the train.

Hundreds visited the scene of the wreck yesterday and much film was used by amateur photographers taking photographs of the cars as they were zipped along the track.

It was announced that the District Deputy Grand Master Ralph Wilkins will probably be present with his staff to install the new officers some time during the middle of April.

Rev. William H. Garnett, Methodist minister, born at Kinzua on September 27, 1874, died at six o'clock last evening at the home of his son, Herbert Garnett, at Centerville. He suffered a stroke a few weeks ago and had failed steadily since. When failing health forced him to retire from active service, he preached as opportunity afforded and served various communities in eastern Crawford county within the past few years. Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter and two sons, five grandchildren and one great-grandchild, one sister and one brother.

A prayer service will be held from the home of his son at ten o'clock Friday morning with further rites at the Corry Methodist church at noon that day. Interment will be at Cottage, N. Y.

PLENTY OF PAINT READY TO APPLY

"There is plenty of good paint available for the proper maintenance of the homes in this city and there is no governmental barrier to painting to keep property in good condition," states O. J. Simonsen of Simonsen Wallpaper and Paint Co.

War Production has made aluminum powder, certain synthetic resins for use in automotive finishes, certain lacquer products, tung oil and certain other raw materials unavailable for civilian paint production, but, generally speaking, the paint manufacturers have up to this time been able to secure adequate supplies for the formation of inside and outside house paints. Simonsen Wallpaper and Paint Co. stressed particularly the fact that good paint is available and that due to the ingenuity of paint technicians many paint products are even superior to those formerly made with raw materials now unobtainable.

POST WAR PROJECT

Announcement is made that the Kinzua dam has been authorized as a post war project by which unemployment will be curbed. Flood control projects are receiving much attention from the post war planners and it is expected that all of the projects for the Allegheny river headwaters will be completed. The Kinzua dam is the biggest project in the whole program and will involve the spending of about $35,000,000 in its construction and payment of damages.

ICE DELAYS BUSINESS

Ice in Lake Erie off the port of Erie is delaying the opening of the lake season which this year promises to break all records. Opening of the port will speed up work on the local lines of the Pennsylvania railroad as the movement of ore and grain eastward swells the volume of freight business on the Pennsylvania railroad. In 1942 the local division had the busiest year in a long time and during the winter months improvements along the road have added to the facilities for the movement of freight.

SLAYER TO BE FREED

District Attorney Burton R. Laub, of Erie, has disclosed that Samuel Q. Weed, 47, the Sunday school superintendent who killed his wife and two small sons with a hammer in July, 1936, will be freed later this week. Weed told police after the slaying he did it because "I had committed a scarlet sin and they were too clean to live with me." A sanity commission ruled the Sunday school leader was insane and he since has been in Farview Institution for the Criminal Insane. Laub said Dr. Thomas A. Rutherford, superintendent of the hospital, has notified him Weed now has recovered his sanity. The district attorney added that he cannot prosecute Weed for the triple slaying, because of the ruling that he was insane at the time.

More Volunteers Needed For Blood Bank Coming in April

Seventy more volunteers are needed for Warren's Blood Bank when the mobile unit again visits Warren April 19th and 20th. With less than three weeks to secure these volunteers and schedule them for appointments it is hoped the necessary number may be secured this week.

Application blanks are to be had at any of Warren's drug stores and take but a moment to fill out. M. G. Keller, chairman of the local Blood Bank Committee feels there are many persons who have planned to make donations but who have simply failed to take the time to fill out a blank.

Over 300 donations will be received when the mobile unit from Buffalo is in Warren on the 19th and 20th of April. All donations will be made at the City Building; the hours being from 1 to 4 and from 5 to 7 each day. Volunteers on one of these days will be those who donated when the blood bank was first here, last November. These persons will be making their second donation and practically all of them signified, at the time of the first donation, that they wanted to give again. They are now being contacted by members of the committee and appointments being scheduled.

In connection with its Blood Bank activities the Buffalo unit of the American Red Cross is promoting a series of radio programs over Station WKBW of Buffalo. These programs are intended to be of interest to all blood donors. The next one will be heard this Friday, April 2nd, at 3:30 p. m. Prospective donors, as well as those who have donated before are asked to listen to this program where possible.

Girl Scouts Schedule Busy Spring Season

One of the busiest places in town these days is the office of the Warren County Girl Scout Council, now located in the Jamieson building at 311 Market street but soon to be moved to 219 Fourth avenue, rooms formerly occupied by the offices of Dr. A. F. Yerg.

The county director, Mrs. Althea N. Correll, and council officials are scheduling what promises to be one of the most active spring and summer programs yet undertaken by the organization.

New troops are being organized, leaders are being secured and details being worked out for outdoor events which will include an expanded season at Camp Birdsall Edey at Grunderville.

Mrs. Harold Stahl will entertain the training committee of the county council at luncheon at her home on Brook street Thursday, after which the group will discuss its program plans.

The same evening at 7:15 in Room 201 of the Warren National Bank building, the senior troop will hold a meeting and Fire Chief D. G. Kropp will demonstrate the new resuscitator presented to the borough by the Moose Lodge. The newly elected president, Joyce Van Tassel, will preside at the session. Other officers of this troop are Helen Claire Hulings, vice president; Ruth Ann David, secretary, and Violet Bunker, treasurer.

On Monday evening of this week Mrs. Vance Weld met with leaders at headquarters for the first demonstration and instruction in the use of moving picture projecting equipment. A second lesson on the topic has been scheduled for April 12.

Commanding officers at shore stations have been warm in their praise of WAVES and SPARS. These women have proved their worth—and that is the reason for the present intensive recruiting drive. The Navy and Coast Guard want more of them.

Chapter 25 LANDA screamed in terror. Then the tension broke as wild sobs shook her body.

"We'll do all we can. It isn't hopeless—yet." Cass was trying to console her. He began signalling with frantic jerks on Jim's air line again.

"He doesn't answer?" Landa whispered. Cass shook his head. "But if he's conscious he'll kick off his shoe weights and close his exhaust valve. He's got enough air in his suit to last eight minutes."

Under Cass' instructions Landa struggled with the wrench.

Cass gave her a grin of approval as it started to turn. "Think you could get the decompression chamber ready? If he balloons his dress and comes up, we'll be ready for him."

They worked desperately. Cass kept his hand on the lifeline as it slowly wound on the dial of the winch. "He must be coming up fast," he said. "There's no tension on this line."

And then after more endless minutes, the steel helmet broke the surface, the diving dress ballooned out grotesquely as it came up like a cork to float with the unconscious Blair inside. Cass and Landa got him aboard and laid out on the deck. In a matter of seconds Cass had his limp body out of the diving dress, his finger on the limp wrist.

"His heart action's okay," he said. "We'll get him into the decompression chamber."

Landa gave a low moan of relief as she helped.

"Oughta be done in forty minutes," Cass said cheerfully as he adjusted the chamber's pressure. "He was down in almost two hundred feet of water so he gets the same pressure as he had on the bottom of the ocean. It'll be gradually lessened over the same length of time it would have taken him to come up under normal conditions."

FOR a minute they sat there watching, breathing heavily from the strain of the last few minutes. Then Cass got to his feet. "I've got a head like a boiler factory. If you think you could stand guard a couple of minutes, I could brew up some java."

He went below and Landa continued to sit watching the strange process of gradual resuscitation. It seemed to her suddenly that Jim should be conscious by now. What if they hadn't adjusted everything? What if he were dying or going into the bends? She ran to the companionway to meet Cass coming up with the coffee. He carefully examined the decompression chamber then reassured her.

Then, suddenly, she lowered her cup and leaned forward, freshly alert.

"Cass, tell me everything you remember about those men that boarded the boat. Everything."

THEY were still talking when they lifted Jim into a deck chair and got hot coffee into him. Jim grinned at Landa.

"Go on," he murmured. "I'm listening. And you sound like a regular Sherlock Holmes."

"The case is, as Cass and I have reviewed it," she laughed softly,

FIRE AND WAR

During the first World War, President Wilson declared: "Preventable fire is more than a private misfortune. It is a public dereliction." At a time like this, of emergency and manifest necessity for the conservation of national resources, it is more than ever a matter of pressing consequence that every means should be taken to prevent this evil.

In view of the fact that the Warren department had five runs over the weekend, most of which could have been averted, it is timely to remind those words now ring with new significance. President Wilson knew that every home and factory, every man, woman and child were part of our national resources. The maximum strength of these resources is vital to military victory. In the last quarter century, preventable fire has destroyed billions of dollars worth of property and countless thousands of lives. We ignored President Wilson's warning. We have squandered our national resources. No one will ever know to what extent the war has been lengthened by our waste.

Here in Warren thoughtless youngsters are reported to have been responsible for some of the grass fires last week. Boys who do not realize that it costs the borough over one hundred dollars to turn out the entire equipment, to say nothing of the danger of damaging valuable apparatus that cannot be replaced until the Axis leaders have been subjugated.

What is gone cannot be reclaimed. The problem now is to curb future fire waste. To do that people must learn that fire prevention is primarily an individual responsibility. And that goes for children as well as adults. We suggest that parents in Warren caution their offspring against playing with matches and particularly against starting bonfires where they are likely to spread to valuable property.

And while we are on the subject, may we remind that cluttered attics, piles of oily rags, faulty insulation, and inadequate extinguishing equipment are just a few of the causes of fire in buildings. Fire ordinances may outlaw fire hazards on paper, but enforcement is impossible without the help of individuals.

The fire department is striving to awaken Warren citizens to the necessity of halting fires before they start. Their job would be easier if the truth of President Wilson's statement that "fire is more than a private misfortune," could be driven home once and for all.

JOIN—OR QUIT

The A. F. of L. Machinists union has a contract with the Warner & Swasey plant in Cleveland. There is no closed shop clause. Warner & Swasey is so hard-pressed for manpower, to produce war goods, that some 350 school teachers, lawyers and office workers are working four-hour shifts, on top of their regular jobs, to help out.

These volunteers have been ordered by the Machinists Union to "join or quit." Most have joined, unwillingly. Some have quit, also unwillingly. The union president concedes that he has no right to enforce membership, but says that "insistence" of fellow workers usually proves an effective persuader.

What would happen if these volunteer patriots insisted upon keeping both their jobs and their independence? A strike? You guess.

Plenty of activity around Victory Gardens in and about Warren, but according to all reports many families are looking for plots.

Hitler's office in the Brown House in Munich was destroyed by Allied bombs. We regret to report that Hitler was not in.

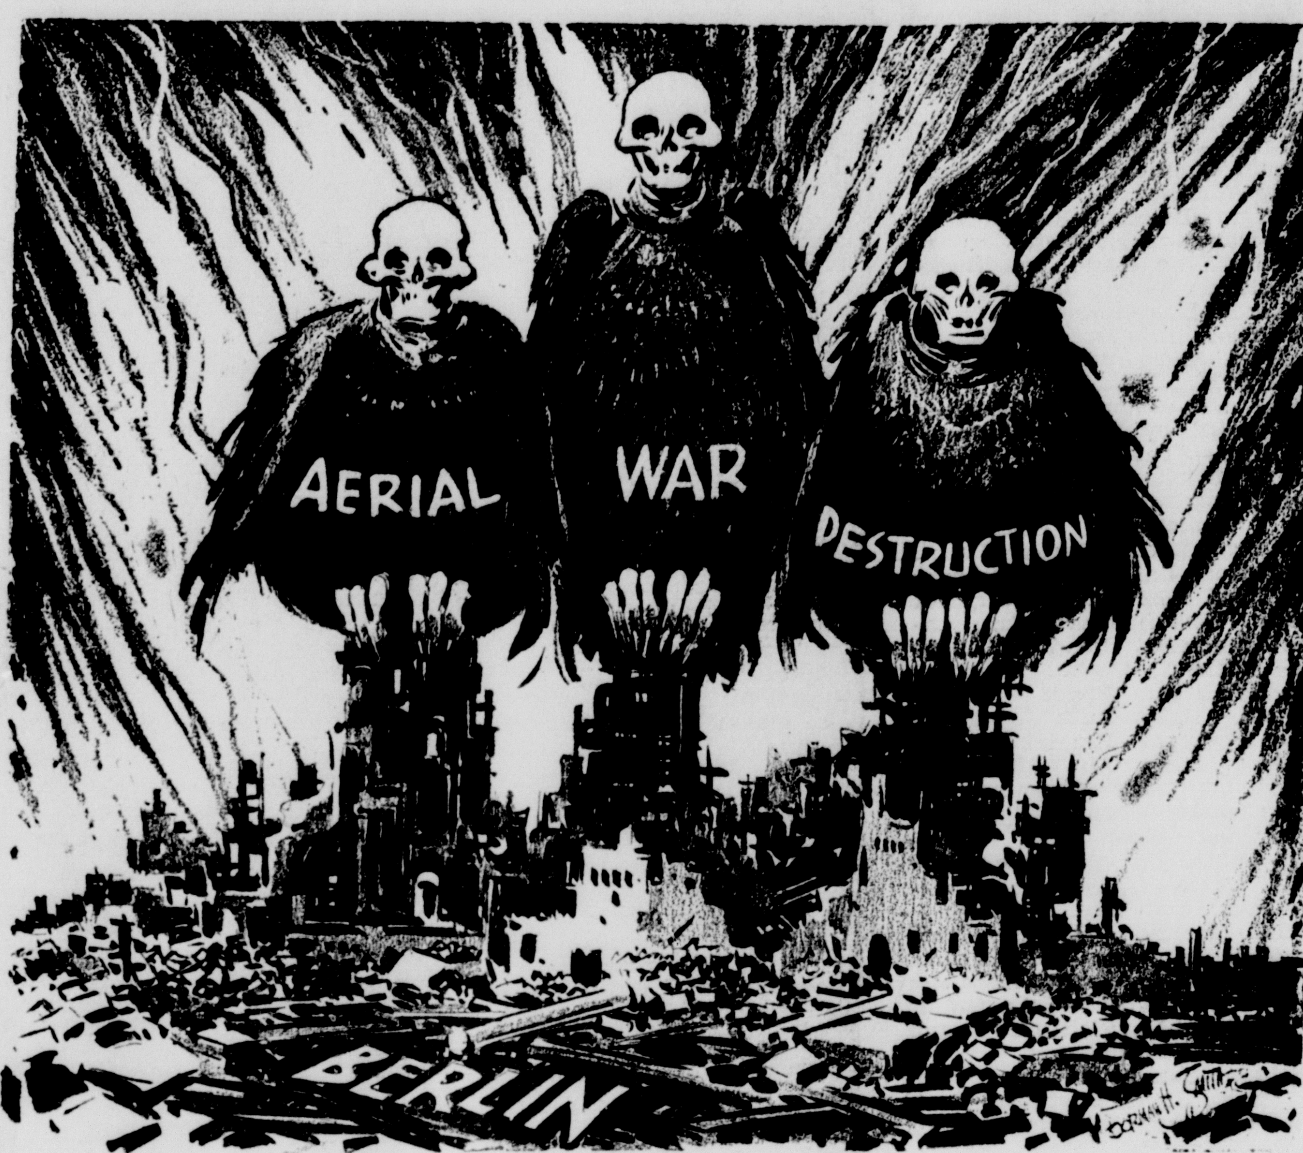

LENTEN SERMONETTE

"A BIT OF HEAVEN ON EARTH"
Rev. John Waite, Pastor Spring Creek
Congregational Church

"The whole earth is filled with Thy glory." Psalm 72:19. It is significant that we find mystical gateway in most of the common things of life. A prophet found one at the back of the desert in a burning bush. A lad saw one in a ladder reaching into heaven. Near you, in the valleys or on the hill tops, may be a gateway to heaven. Nature has a message if only we will read. Heaven is our home, but we may find much of it along the way. Euryan's pilgrim found refreshing springs and lilies in the valley, on the way to the celestial city.

The earth is full of heaven in ways of increasing consecration and service. In nature our spirits find communion with God and are looking always and everywhere for Him. We seek to make this revelation a part of our lives, making it the habitation of a larger love. The greater love always finds itself in a greater world, revealing new altars in the cathedral of life. The way is transfigured when we wear our yokes with joy. About the altar is the fragrance of incense when the needs of others is met fully. "Then the whole earth is filled with Thy glory." And though our eternal home is in heaven we find much of heaven on earth.

The Chickens Come Home to Roost

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Oscar Homolka is a man with a happy problem. All he has to do is convince producers that he isn't interested in money. "They don't understand," he chuckles, blue eyes twinkling under bushy black eyebrows. "They ask me how much I really want to play their certain role, and I say, 'Gentlemen, it isn't money I want. Can't you see? But they don't see. They tell me I'm a fool to throw away all this money which they would pay me if I played the role. They still don't understand.'"

When you talk with Oscar, you witness a great show—a great performance of Oscar as himself: vital, dynamic, yet twinkling, easy-going and completely natural. He sits in an easy chair in his study on his Bel-Air estate. His face is mobile and expressive, animated. He is a stocky, broad fellow, restlessly active and yet giving an impression of genial composure. He gestures continually, his hand pulling at his thick black hair, or sweeping the air to emphasize a point while he talks—very good English, too. He refuses to speak German any more.

"What they do not understand," he says, "is that I do not need money. If I wanted to make much more money, I would be a banker, not an actor. If I needed money, too, I know they would not offer it. So I do not want to throw away all my experience as an actor to play parts which do not interest me—some of which I could have done better 20 years ago when I was more naive and less discriminating."

OSCAR is the man who plays Maxim Litvinoff in "Mission to Moscow." He came out of self-imposed retirement, after eight months, to play this first role that "interested" him. He has since done another in "Hostages." His retirement came after a series of pictures that did not interest him—any more than his first in Hollywood, "Ebb Tide," in 1937. That one promised well, but disintegrated through various circumstances to emerge as a very bad movie. Homolka stayed away two years, until May of 1939.

This independence of his goes back a long time. Austrian-born, he served in the Austrian army, and returned to Vienna after the defeat to resume his dramatic studies.

"The war made me a completely different person," he says. "After it, I kept asking, 'Why, why?'"

THE question persisted, while his fame as an actor rose, and he followed the course of European affairs with such zeal that he knew, in 1933, that he could no longer live in Berlin. "I left Germany the very night that Hitler came to power," he says.

Of Slavic descent, he had no racial reason to leave—he merely could not stomach Fascism. They asked him to come back, but he finally chose England for his work. He learned the language in less than four months, scored on the London stage and English screen—and so to Hollywood.

Here, too, he is a quiet rebel. "We have seen it happen so often," he says. "They find a player who is fresh and interesting in a certain role, so they give him others like it. He copies himself, again and again, each copy becoming weaker until he is lost."

This is what will not happen to Homolka—not while he wrestles with his happy problem.

Nazi Six-Shooter

They look like huge old-fashioned rotating-barrel pistols, but they're really multiple-barreled trench mortars abandoned by the Germans in their hurried flight before the Soviets on the western front.

Even Nazis Have Fun

Hemisphere Economy Ably Presented For Blue Stocking Club

For the Blue Stocking Club meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. C. Flick, Jr., with Mrs. Edith Smith as assisting hostess, the president, Miss Ethel Morris, conducted a brief business session and called upon Mrs. Vance Weld for a sketch on the life and work of Ezequiel Padilla. Senor Padilla is the all-American diplomat of Mexico and the paper was of special interest because of the Pan-American study theme of the club this year.

Mrs. W. E. Lutz, in charge of the program, had for her topic "Inter-American Economic Cooperation." The subject carried through the common interests of geographical location, political and philosophical backgrounds, as exerting a profound influence on the economics of the hemisphere. The speaker pointed out that the people of the Americas want a peaceful cooperative world and believe that they must leave no stone unturned in securing it, certainly none in our own neighborhood.

Mrs. Allison D. Wade presided at a table prettily centered with yellow daisies and forget-me-nots. The next meeting will be April 13 at the home of Mrs. Lutz, 125 Biddle street.

LAMOTTA IS WINNER BY A DECISION

Pittsburgh, March 31—(P)—Jake Lamotta, New York's middleweight sensation, joined a decision out of Ossie (Bulldog) Harris, a veteran Pittsburgh negro trial horse, before 4,200 customers here last night.

Murray, 199, New York slugger, won a split decision over Buddy Walker, 195, of Cleveland, that was so close matchmaker Jake Mintz announced the two heavyweights would be rematched for the next fight at the gardens, a Saturday night affair.

JOE GARDNER

With another baseball season just over the horizon it is possible to safely predict two things—First, there is no question but that Warren's perennial baseballer "Red" Swanson will do everything in his power to keep alive the national pastime in our town. Second, that if he succeeds in forming a league he will again don the old monkey suit and romp around the sacks faster and better than most youngsters of his age.

There is no question in the minds of Warren fans as to the benefits of a good small local league—Most fans we have talked to agree that Shickelgruber and Togo are not important enough to seriously hamper our national pastime either locally or throughout the nation.

As we remember it a few years back (quite a few) ball players were able to find their way to the playing field no matter where that field was located, without the aid of gasoline propelled vehicles and we are sure could do so again. We remember the Mann brothers of Kinzua—who thought nothing of walking to Warren from Kinzua to play ball at Russell Field. However we strongly believe that it will never come to the point where Grandpaw Myron Jewell will love to work down that tummy by walking anywhere to play ball.

Speaking of old timers we understand that a certain Elks Club steward has been cutting up a neighbors yard practicing throwing his famous sinker ball but these activities are not appreciated by Mr. Stein who happens to be the neighbor—The good neighbor policy is not working out so well in this instance and besides this same steward is trying to change his appearance by parting his hairs in the middle and give us the impression that he has pitched good ball not too long ago—however we took the trouble to check up and according to that famous authority on baseball, Commissioner "Kenesaw Mountain" Knowlton—We found that shortly after the horse and buggy era this certain—Elks Club steward lost his curve ball and hasn't been able to find it since.

Pitt's Shaughnessy Optimistic About Coming Panther Year

BY RUSS NEWLAND

San Francisco, March 31—(P)—Mass production—That's what Coach Clark Shaughnessy plans for the University of Pittsburgh this season to bring the Panthers back as a football power. Shaughnessy conceded that the game undoubtedly will be of a sub-standard quality this year, but he said today he would teach football to every man who cared to turn out—"I don't care how big they are or how qualified."

"Every boy who turns out will get a chance to play, whether it is on the varsity or on the fourth team of scrubs."

Shaughnessy, who has established some kind of a record by coaching at Chicago, Stanford, the University of Maryland and now at Pittsburgh, all in the last four years, said freshmen would be permitted to play on the Pitt varsity, a move many schools have made because of the wartime streamlining of courses.

He has found his new job "the most ideal I have ever encountered."

"There are no strings attached to it," he said, "I am there to teach football, and will have the fullest cooperation of the university officials. I have been given a lifetime tenure with a full professorship. It is a wonderful set-up. "I'm very restless, and I like to be where there's lots of action. At Pitt I'm certain I'll find that."

Shaughnessy has had experience in building teams from obscurity to football greatness. Remember 1940, when he took a Stanford team which had made a miserable showing the year before and built it into a Rose Bowl champion in one season.

Shaughnessy is here to give his eldest daughter, Marcia, in marriage to Ensign Asher Bolton Wilson Jr. of Twin Falls, Ida., at the Stanford Memorial chapel on Saturday afternoon. She is a student at Stanford.

AT THE ELKS

Still the Times-Mirror holds the spotlight for the Elks League handicap event as only seven teams remain to attempt the tear-down of the 3077 mark set on opening day.

But, the Texas Lunch nearly upset the dope-bucket in their sweeps last night by coming into a 3000 match themselves, but war-horse Barney Malone had a slow night and the burden of victory still evaded the Hotdogs. Gene Fraring was the only one coming into 600 with a 628 match for them.

Kirbergers had a bad night and rolled a measly 2633 match while Kirby still thinks handball is his game.

"Jap" Lynch nailed a 604 match for the Warren Tank, but the Big Gun, Eddie Branch had the "Lowrey" jinx and couldn't support his mates while they dropped off early and never came close.

The Lewis Marketa, thought to be a pinch for placing honors slipped into oblivion and only made a 2837 total. Myron Check did garner a 617 match but not enough was recorded by others. Marshall Marshall in action for the first time on the Elks slides gave an exhibition, but was slightly out of the groove and only came in with 530.

Notre Dame gained a three-point decision over the Santa Clara last night on the Arcade slides with Joe Colosimo kicking in with 554-223 to pace the assault. Bonavita kept the Santa Clara pitching with 555, but lacked support. Fordham nabbed four points from the Holy Cross lancers by Tony Fazio's 574-212 set and Frank Gerard's 591. Gus Cerra turned in 514 for the losers.

AT THE MOOSE

The South Side Market went into a warm-up last night by coasting along with the Henderson Lunch and arriving at 2454 for four points. Stevie Kuhre paced his meeters with 554, while G. Peterson added up a 206 game to lead the losers.

The Busy Bee Rest. also made it a night of clean sweeps by taking four from the Millies Inn. Harry Rosquist, warming up without the mask, came into a 561 total and had 222 to make it look good, and Hoffman made his mates feel like they were in there by getting 216 for the losers.

AT CONEWAGO CLUB

MacDonalds of the Conewago Club slapped together a 2584 total last night to dwarf the Bjers and nab four points from them as all teams go into the home stretch. Langdon went wild on the maples last night y taking his blasting duties into 652 for high total. Johnny Allen helped along his mates by clipping 508, while the cutter version of MacDonalds found himself facing an off-night with only 434. The Bee-Gers were led by the indomitable Branch who strewed the hard sticks for 551. Honor Roll: Langdon 225-218.

STAGG ANNOUNCES BANNING OF SCHEDS

Selinsgrove, Pa., March 31—(P)—All intercollegiate spring sports schedules have been cancelled at Susquehanna University, where Alonzo Stagg, Jr., athletic director, announced yesterday.

Because many students' interests have been called to active duty, Stagg said these sports may be out for the duration.

RECORD SET BY L. M. CAPTAIN IN 3 YEA

Lower Merion, March 31—(P)—And now it comes out. Greer Heindel, captain of the championship Lower Merion high basketball aggregation, is the best player in history to play on three FIAA titlist teams, having made Coach Bill Anderson's varsity three years ago when he was 15.

But, his friends disclosed today, Heindel, an end on L. M.'s 1942 grid squad, would rather play football than the court game any day.

The house passed and sent to the governor a measure to permit purchase and sale of hides of land to the senate a measure to add apples and peaches to an act providing for grading grapes and potatoes, and also a measure to permit county commissioners to divide among qualified historical societies the $1,000 appropriation for such purposes.

A broad investigation of labor unions and their officials by the legislature was proposed in a bill introduced in the house by Rep. William R. McMillen (R-Indiana). The measure would set up a commission to hear testimony and examine union records.

In the senate, measures were introduced to place lawmakers on a $250 monthly salary basis and to provide for optional annual or biennial commonwealth budgets.

Senator Harry Shapiro (D-Phila.) declaring the aim of the bills was to "solve a legislative problem" occasioned by the need for frequent special sessions of the assembly.

eign relations subcommittee as they assembled to begin consideration of proposals for collective action by the United Nations.

While sponsors of some of the proposals said their mail was increasing, Senator George (D-Ga.) told reporters he hardly knew what to make of the fact that despite wide newspaper and radio discussion he had received fewer than a dozen letters about the problems involved.

Another member of the subcommittee, Democratic leader Barkley of Kentucky, said he had received only about 20 letters and ventured the observation that the public doesn't seem greatly excited about the question.

On the other hand, Senator Burton (R-Ohio), one of four sponsors of a resolution calling on this government to organize the United Nations for closer co-operation in war and peace, said he was receiving upwards of 100 letters daily.

U. S. Troops Are Battering Escape Area

port that the British fleet had landed troops at Sfax, 70 airline miles north of Gabes, but London naval quarters said there was no confirmation.

Allied headquarters said in general terms that American troops under Lieut.-Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., were beating their way eastward into Rommel's flank, while other reports pictured U. S. troops as locked in violent battles with the Germans in the sectors of Cussetia, Faid and Maknassy.

Field dispatches said the Americans driving toward the sea from Maknassy had beaten off three German tank attacks.

The Americans driving from Maknassy were last reported only 30-odd miles from the sea, at the nearest point, and some 50 miles west of port of Mahares. Still another U. S. column was thrusting toward the key Axis airfield at Kairouan.

Axis communiques described the battle in the vaguest terms.

Italian headquarters said the Allies unleashed "violent new attacks" yesterday; the German high command asserted that "all attacks failed again in view of the determined resistance of our troops."

In the north, dispatches said the 1st Army had not only recaptured Sedjenane but captured prisoners in a sortie north of Medjez-El-Bab, 34 miles southwest of Tunis, the capital.

William B. King, Associated Press war correspondent, said British troops aided by fierce-fighting Goum tribal warriors of French Morocco drove elite Nazi forces back upon Sedjenane by capturing a strategic hill in a two-day battle.

ground was beginning to dry, an Izvestia dispatch related. The recently liberated steppe soon will be sown and the story said that the fields already are colorful with the bright babushkas of the women preparing vegetable gardens.

(The effect of United States war material and food on the Russian front is making itself felt, Maj. Gen. A. N. Korolov, chief of Soviet transportation in Iran, said yesterday at Teheran as he greeted American engineers and crews who operated the first all-American train carrying U. S. war supplies to Russia from a Persian Gulf port.

I'm glad to say the impact of the United States supplies now is being felt on the war front," Gen. Korolov told the engineers and Maj. Gen. Donald D. Connolly, who heads the Persian Gulf service command.

American ships took the supplies into the port and landed them on American-built docks, and American crews then loaded the train for transshipment into Russia, over the trans-Indian railway.)

CANAL FUND DROPPED
Washington, March 31.—(P)—The house appropriations committee by a 21 to 19 vote today struck from the war department civil function supply bill for the fiscal year 1944 an item of $44,000,000 for construction of the Florida barge canal.

PROBE PLANNED IN MINE SILT PROBLEM

Harrisburg, March 31.—(P)—Chairman William W. Serrill (R-Forest) today said the house public health and sanitation committee plans to study pleas for and against a bill to prohibit dumping of mine silt in state streams before acting on the bill.

"We'll then decide if the bill is to be reported or tabled," Serrill said. "It is a question of whether it should be done at this time."

At a public hearing, proponents urged favorable action to prevent a breakdown of water systems at Philadelphia and other Schuylkill valley communities, while spokesmen for anthracite operators said the measure would "make it impossible for us to operate at all."

Clarendon Red Cross To Make Quilts

Mrs. L. E. Meley, secretary of the Red Cross unit at Clarendon, asks that all interested in this program be in attendance at the work rooms from one until four o'clock on Thursday afternoon. Quilts will be ready to bind and some ready to be tied off and there will be other sewing for distribution to workers.

Reporting on its accomplishments for the past year, the Clarendon group shows these statistics: Ladies' nightgowns 5, girls' slips 25, girls' pajamas 8, large comforts donated 8, baby comforts donated 8, afghans donated 8, wristlets 12 pairs, sweaters 7, army helmets 2, navy scarf 1, ladies' blouses 2, hospital bed shirts 5, boys' overalls 6, both-ropes 7, women's blouses 6, boys' shirts 6, girls' skirts 8.

Beside the sewing and knitting that has been done by the women at Red Cross headquarters, under the direction of Mrs. Edna Rader, the first president, and Mrs. Dora Mead, now acting president, there have been 67 duffie bags made by women in the community and money has been given to fill each of these. This sum of $67 is credited to the local Red Cross under the direction of Mrs. Linna Knight, who is Clarendon chairman of the duffie bag project.

Also included in the year's report is the announcement that campaign workers brought in a total of $783.43 in the recent War Fund solicitation.

Camels Are Favorites With Sailors

Sailors have a language that is pretty much all their own. "Scuttle butt", for instance, is Navy slang for gossip; "boot" is the Navy man's word for a new recruit; and "smoking lamp's lit" is what they say aboard ship for smoking permitted.

A sailor has only four pockets in his uniform (as contrasted to the conventional 12 pockets in a civilian's coat, trousers, and vest)—but in one of those pockets you're pretty sure to find a pack of cigarettes; for whether it's in the open spaces of an aircraft carrier, or the cramped quarters of a submarine, your sailor wants to be sure he's ready when the word "smoking lamp's lit" is passed around.

As to what the sailor smokes—well, in that he's no different from the men in Uncle Sam's other fighting forces. For with men in all branches of the service—Army, Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard—the favorite cigarette is Camel, according to sales records from the service man's own stores—Post Exchanges, Sales Commissaries, Ship's Service Stores, Ship's Stores, and Canteens.

HEALTH PROTECTION MORE IMPORTANT THAN EVER TODAY

Health authorities are stressing today more than ever the need for greater family health protection as an important factor in keeping manpower on the job for vital production.

One of the first steps in home health protection is the regular hygienic cleansing of home "danger zones". This type of cleansing goes far beyond ordinary cleansing in making homes more sanitary and safer.

Home "danger zones" include china, glassware, tile, enamel, porcelain, linoleum, wood surfaces, household and personal cottons and linens. Foremost among the aids to home health defense is Clorox, America's favorite household disinfectant. Clorox is outstanding in germicidal efficiency among those disinfectants which scientists recommend as safest, best-suited and most economical for household use.

Clovers, alfalfa, and other legumes require pollination by insects, before they produce seed.

Simplicity Keynote of New Meats and Fats Rationing Program Now Being Enforced

"Simplicity is the keynote of the new meats and fats rationing program which went into effect today," a spokesman for the OPA declared in a statement just issued.

"Housewives will have no difficulty at all in shopping with their ration stamps in War Ration Book Two when the new program goes into effect on March 29".

Although the ration list includes a wide variety of foods, including all meats and many cheeses, as well as shortenings and salad oil, butter and margarine, canned fish, and many other items, from the point of view of the housewife who does the shopping, it will really be a simple matter.

"All these foods will be rationed with a single set of stamps," and the housewife will have to consult only one table of point values to find out how many ration points any of these foods will cost.

"This latest program requires no registration of any kind." "War Ration Books Two are already distributed,—and when the program goes into effect, housewives will already have had a full month's experience in the use of their point-ration books in buying processed foods. Neither will consumers be asked to report any stocks of foods they may have on hand."

One of the few differences between the use of the blue and the red stamps in War Ration Book Two, is the order in which stamps will be declared valid.

When rationing begins on March 29, the first set of stamps, marked A,—worth 16 points,—will be valid. Beginning on April 4, and then on each succeeding Sunday throughout April, an additional set of stamps will be validated. All these stamps, from A through E inclusive will remain in use all month,—making a total of 80 points per person for April.

Another difference in the use of the red stamps is that it permits retailers to make "change" in ration stamps when a customer finds it impossible to give the exact amount of valid red stamps when making a purchase. Only one—point red stamps of any series currently valid may be used for this purpose.

During the week of April 4 to 10, for example, storekeepers may give their customers red one-point stamps marked A or B in change. Customers are reminded, in this connection, that they must use stamps they receive in change by the end of the month in which they are issued and before they expire—just as they must use the stamps in their own books.

As red stamps are declared valid, they may be used with complete freedom of choice by the housewife to buy any one, or any combination, of the foods for which they must be surrendered. There is no distinction made at all in the use of the red stamps as between meat and cheese, or any of the other foods for which these stamps will be spent.

For example, a housewife who comes into the store with 40 points to spend from the ration books of her family, may spend all of them for meat, or all of them for butter or cheese, or she may, if she wishes, divide up her points, and buy butter and cheese, or margarine and meat, or any other combination of food she chooses.

Point values for the entire list of foods rationed in Warren will be the same as in every retail store in the country—just as they are for canned goods. Point prices of different cuts of meat will be different,—just as the point price of apricots and peas, for example, is different. However, there will be no difference in point price between different grades of the same cut of meat,—nor between different grades of hard cheese, nor the same quantity of any kind of butter.

Pay for the Women's Reserves of the Navy and Coast Guard is the same as men's pay. A WAVE or SPAR entering school as an apprentice starts at the equivalent of $132.50 a month—$50.00 base pay and $82.50 subsistence. The first increase comes after the first month in service, and it is possible for an enlisted woman to attain the rating of chief petty officer, for which pay, including allowances, is $208.50 a month.

Memorial Books Presented To Warren Public Library

The group of books presented in memory of George Lamberton Craft, Junior, may be seen this week on the memorial display table. In each instance the book is evidence of discriminating choice with the tastes and interests of the one commemorated thoughtfully considered.

The largest group centers around the field of aviation. One of the most discussed books on the air, Major de Seversky's Victory Through Air Power, will be found in this group. The view that "Billy" Mitchell was ahead of his time is strongly advanced by Emile Gauvreau and Lester Cohen in their biography, Billy Mitchell. Command of Our Air Force, and Prophet Without Honor. Another far-seeing observer of the possibilities of air combat was an Italian, Giulio Douhet, whose book, Command of the Air, received so much attention in the press this winter.

Flying Squadrons by S. P. Johnston has a strong appeal with its graphic history of our United States Army air forces. The achievements of the American Volunteer group which flew and fought for China are vividly presented by Russell Whelan in Flying Tigers. E. G. Vetter's Visibility Unlimited is a technical book highly recommended in aviation guides. The local demand for technical aviation books has been difficult to fully meet.

An outstanding biography of the year is Muriel Rukeyser's Willard the elusive quotation is A Treasury of the Familiar edited by R. L. Woods. It is attractive and logically arranged.

Ambassador Grew's Report from Tokyo was a welcome addition to books on the war and was asked for long before release. Problems of Lasting Peace by Hoover and Gibson is a much discussed work on post war planning and one of the best.

These books will be displayed on the memorial table this week and will then be placed in the regular memorial collection.
